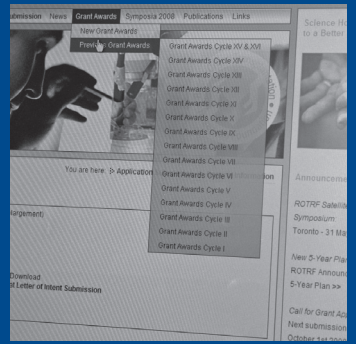
Medical Research Foundation

The mission of a foundation is to support research projects aimed at advancing medical science; it emphasises the need for innovation and novelty, and for thinking "outside the box". Medical foundations provide operating grants to academic staff in universities and research institutes.

nspm's role is to co-ordinate the foundation and we act as the secretariat; we co-ordinate the evaluation of applications and the grant application procedures, prepare a ranking and monitor supported projects. In accordance with the guidelines of the Board of Trustees, we work to ensure seamless communication between the Foundation and the applicants. With our highly experienced medical and scientific team, we offer to administer the foundations' websites, edit/produce reports and information booklets and organise congresses and symposia.

Roche Organ Transplantation Research Foundation



RoFAR
Foundation for Anemia Research